

Soft Skills Self-Assessment #1A

Questionnaire adapted from Mind Tools

Question	Not At All	Rarely	Sometimes	Often	Always
I routinely set realistic goals for myself, and I track my progress until I've reached them.
When I have to make a decision, I pick the first good solution I find.
I am confident in my abilities but I know my limits.
When it comes to managing my workload, I know my priorities.
Cooperative teamwork is something I am less committed to when time and resources are limited.
I am not always as productive as I could be because I am lacking clear direction.
When I want to motivate people, I try to use the same approach with each person.
The work I do on a daily basis reflects my values, and is consistent with the goals I've set for myself.
I'm able to communicate my needs, and I make sure that my message is heard and understood.
When I encounter a problem, I immediately begin looking for potential solutions.
When there's conflict, I use my communication skills to work things through to a positive resolution.
I tend to adjust my behaviour on a team depending on whether I am the leader or a supporting member.
When discussing an issue with someone, I'm usually actively thinking about what I'm going to say next.
When I encounter a setback, I have difficulty focusing on the situation positively and objectively right away.
Deadlines motivate me and keep me on track so that I complete all of my work in a timely manner.
